

COUNCIL FAVORS CIVIL WAR VETERAN

MAKES IT POSSIBLE FOR HIM TO ACT AS AUCTIONEER WITHOUT A LICENSE.

W. R. PARKER HEALTH OFFICER

His Appointment Approved by City Council—Other Work of the Council.

The November meeting of the city council was held Friday evening and was a comparatively short session, as there was not much business to be considered. All of the aldermen were in their chairs at the opening of the session except Alderman Dana, who was a little late owing to the fact that he was getting acquainted with his new daughter.

Bills and Reports.
Bills for the month to the sum of $3,407.75 were approved and ordered paid. The usual reduction was made in the bill of the lighting company for certain lights not burning the specified time.

City Marshall Woodyatt's report for October showed $8.60 collected in fines.

W. J. Barry, superintendent of Oakwood cemetery, made his report for October, showing accounts payable, $242; cash received, $203.50; paid W. J. Kelly for cement, $15; paid city clerk, $188.50.

Both of the above reports were approved.

Ask Sign Permit.

Lemuel Whipple asked the city for permission to erect an electric sign at 101 First street, the request being referred to the sidewalk committee with power to act.

Messrs. Gold & Yeager, tailors, asked permission to erect a three-foot wooden sign at 314 First street. This was likewise referred to the sidewalk committee with power to act.

Refuse 6 Months' License.

Geo. J. Fruin made application for an auctioneer's license covering a period of six months. The city ordinance covering auctioneer's licenses was read and found to specify a fee of $25 for a license for a year, with a provision of $2 per day for any period less than a day. Mr. Fruin's application was therefore tabled and he must abide by the provisions of the ordinance.

Privilege for Old Soldiers.

An ordinance was submitted to the council providing for an amendment to the present auctioneer's ordinance by the insertion of a clause permitting veterans of the Civil war to act as auctioneers without a license. On motion of Alderman Gannon the amendment was adopted. The special emergency which called this ordinance up was the desire of ex-Alderman A. L. Gage to engage in the auctioneering business. It was the sentiment of the council to favor the old soldiers wherever possible.

Monroe Avenue Question.

Alderman Bovey of the streets and alleys committee, reported that his committee had investigated the question of opening up Monroe avenue and had decided that under existing conditions if the property owners effected would donate to the city the land necessary for the street that the city would then take the matter up with the railway company for the right of way.

For Public Safety.

Alderman Scriven recalled for consideration the question of the safety of the public at the railway crossing at the foot of Galena avenue, near the bridge, contending either for gates or a permanent flag man there between the hours of 7 a. m. and 6 p. m., and Mayor Edwards said that the Northwestern railway had instructed its men to stop all trains and flag themselves across the crossing at any time that the regular flagman is not on duty.

There is no question but what this is a dangerous point and some provision should be made for a permanent flagman.

New Health Officer.

Dr. C. H. Bokhof was appointed city health officer at the last meeting.

Messrs. Gold & Yeager, who come from Clinton, Ia., have opened a tailoring establishment at 314 First street and are soliciting the patronage of the people of Dixon. They do both men's and ladies' tailoring and carry a large stock of fabrics in exclusive patterns. They come to Dixon well recommended and will no doubt do a good business here.

W. F. STRONG MADE DIXON CLUB HEAD

OTHER OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS ELECTED AT ANNUAL BUSINESS MEETING

PLANS FOR THE SOCIAL SEASON

Musicals, Card Parties, Banquet and Billiard Tournament on the List.

The Dixon club met in executive session last evening at their club rooms.

The regular business transacted since their last meeting was gone over, bills read and approved and the annual election of officers was held.

There were seven directors to be elected to serve through the coming year. C. E. Chandler, C. A. Todd, W. F. Strong, Lester Wilhelm, J. M. McCleary, C. A. Dement and Dr. C. C. Hunt were the names proposed for the board of directors and they were accepted unanimously.

The board of directors met last evening and elected W. F. Strong president, J. M. McCleary, vice president; C. A. Todd, treasurer and C. E. Chandler, secretary. The names of the members of last year's board of directors were proposed but many of the retiring officers, begged to decline, giving absence from town and other excuses as their reasons. The retiring members of the board are Thomas Young, president, and John Crabtree.

Plans for the future were discussed and among other things it was decided to hold a banquet and entertainment for club members and their families. It will be held on the second Friday evening in December. It is planned to make this banquet a large and brilliant affair.

The committee on entertainment for the young people are Lester Wilhelm, Robin Hartwell, Ewalt Austin, Will Albright and Geo. Shaw. On the program for the winter are card parties, musicals, children's party, billiard tournament and banquet and other entertainments.

After the business session last night the club members enjoyed a most appetizing luncheon and afterwards cigars.

The Dixon Club, which is located on the third floor of the O. H. Brown block, at the corner of First street and Galena avenue, is one of the most important and most influential societies in our city. It contains on its rolls the names of the representative citizens of Dixon. At the present time it has a large membership and is in a flourishing condition. The spacious club rooms are delightfully situated and furnished with regard to comfort and amusement. Reading rooms, with a large assortment of the latest and best periodicals, whist tables, billiard and pool tables, writing room, committee room, ball room and all go towards providing plenty of entertainment.

LECTURE DATE CHANGED.

Owing to a conflict in one of the lecture dates between the Y. M. C. A. course and the University Extension course, the next lecture by Prof. Troop will be given at the Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening next, Nov. 8th. The subject will be "William Makepeace Thackeray" and the hour 8 o'clock.

MR. AND MRS. GILL GO TO BELVIDERE

Hosts of Dixon friends will regret to learn of the departure from this city of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gill, who go to Belvidere, where Mr. Gill has a position with the Gossard Corset company. Mr. Gill has been cashier for the local factory of this company ever since it was started in Dixon, and his services have been highly valued by the management. He was for a number of years in the shoe business in Dixon previous to his connection with the Gossard people, coming to Dixon from Madison, Wis., where he also conducted a shoe store.

NO, WE DON'T WANT 1896 CONDITIONS

REPUBLICAN PARTY HAS THE SAFEST WAY TO ADJUST THE TARIFF.

SETTLE QUESTION NEXT TUESDAY

Every Republican Should Make It His Personal Business to Vote Nov. 8th.

O. N. Wright of Freeport, democratic candidate for congress, today flooded Dixon with campaign literature calling the attention of the voters to a comparison of prices under the tariff of 1896 and 1910.

Some figures:

1896—
4 lbs. butter, 40c.
2 dozen eggs, 20c.
2 lbs. steak, 20c.

1910—
4 lbs. butter, $1.20.
2 dozen eggs, 50c.
2 lbs. steak, 35c.

That is all right as far as it goes. But Mr. Wright forgot to state that farmers paid 75 cents a day for plowing corn in 1896 and in 1910 they paid $1.75 a day for the same work. It is hardly to be believed that the farmers are willing to go back to the times of 1896. The tariff of 1896 was the Wilson-Gorman tariff. Two years after that tariff law went into effect democrats fell in by the thousands to assist the republicans to elect Wm. McKinley. The farmers remember that well.

We don't want that kind of tariff again.

No party can revise the tariff as it ought to be under the way it has been revised in past congresses. The democratic party failed absolutely in 1896.

Today the republican advocates a tariff commission, the only fair way to regulate the tariff.

Mr. Wright does not say he favors a tariff commission.

Mr. McKenzie makes that a plank in his platform. The next congress will pass a law providing for a tariff commission. Where will Mr. Wright be then?

Mr. Wright in a letter to the voters, declares:

"I believe we have been governed long enough for the benefit of corporations, by men who make politics a business, and that it is high time the people took a hand."

It is evident that Mr. Wright is willing to enter the business of politics.

That is about the argument the democratic county candidates use when they call the republican ticket a machine ticket. The democratic ticket in this county is a real machine ticket, in fact it is a one-man ticket. That is, one man carried the petitions and it was through his efforts that the names were put upon the ticket. The democratic ticket chosen at the meeting of the democratic county central committee at Amboy did not suit some of the democrats and they got busy and made up a ticket to their own liking.

The people nominated the republican ticket. There was no machine work there. The warm contest before primary day is still fresh in the minds of some of the republicans. Where the people nominate the ticket there can be no machine work.

No, Mr. Wright, your prices asked for will not do.

No, democrats, the peoples' ticket will win this time. You may fool some, but you cannot fool all the voters.

LIBRARY OPEN SUNDAY.

SMALL FIRE IN WEST DIXON HOME

ELAZE DISCOVERED AT HOME OF MRS. DORA SUGGITT TODAY.

A fire in the home of Mrs. Dora Suggitt, 1213 West Third street, brought the fire department out this morning at 7:30 o'clock. The fire was in a bed room on the first floor, occupied by one of Mrs. Suggitt's roomers. The cause of the fire is unknown. The damage is slight. Some of the wall paper was badly scorched and some clothing belonging to the roomer was burned.

The firemen found a lamp without a chimney standing on the table. It is thought the light might have been left burning when the occupant of the room went to work this morning, and thus caused an explosion.

NURSES RECEIVE THEIR DIPLOMAS

FOUR ARE GRADUATED FROM TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES.

EXERCISES VERY INTERESTING

Dr. Cook Made Address; Musical Program Given, Followed By Reception.

Last evening at the Dixon high school building occurred the graduating exercises of the Training School for Nurses in connection with the Dixon Public hospital. In spite of the inclement weather, there was a goodly attendance, representing the friends of the nurses and of the hospital. The graduates were Misses Newcomer, Fox, Page and Stuart, who, gowned in white uniforms, occupied the platform with the physicians of Dixon.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. E. P. Cook of Mendota, who delivered a most interesting address on the work of the physician and nurse. The speaker has the faculty of making a scientific subject popular and understandable to the uninitiated in medical research. The exercises were presided over by Dr. C. C. Hunt, who introduced Dr. Cook in happy terms and who also presented the nurses with their diplomas.

The invocation was given by Rev. Fred Stone, who is a former pastor of Dr. Cook and an intimate friend in the latter's family.

Miss Esther Dement gave a piano solo, "Grillen," by Schumann, in a charming manner. Miss Dement has a beautiful touch and plays with rare sympathy.

Mrs. W. R. Parker, accompanied by Mrs. Lee Read, sang "Good-Bye, Sweet Day," by Vannah. Mrs. Frank Ballou and Mrs. Lee Read, accompanied by Miss Brenela, sang a duet, "Twilight," by Nevin. The music was all very sweet and well rendered.

Miss McIntyre, who is acting as superintendent of the hospital during Miss Decker's illness, was to read the report of the Training School, but unhappily was ill at the last moment and the hospital board asked Miss Bertha Haines, as one of the earliest graduates, to take that part of the program. This Miss Haines did in a most dignified way, administering to them the Hippocratic oath, which admonishes the nurses to be honorable, loyal and true to their profession.

At the completion of the exercises the graduates repaired to the Nurses' home, on East First street, where the hospital board entertained them with a reception, to which the alumni of the Training School, the nurses now in training, with the physicians and their wives, were invited.

ONLY ONE "BEST"

DIXON PEOPLE GIVE CREDIT WHERE CREDIT IS DUE.

People of Dixon who suffer with sick kidneys and bad backs want a kidney remedy that can be depended upon. The best is Doan's Kidney Pills, a medicine for the kidneys only made from pure roots and herbs and the only one that is backed by cures in Dixon. Here's Dixon testimony:

Mrs. E. Bennett, 910 W. Seventh St., Dixon, Ill., says: "I suffered from kidney complaint for a long time and was unable to find relief. My back ached almost constantly and it was hard for me to get about or do any lifting. I was subject to dizzy spells and the least amount of work tired me. When I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box at the Leake Bros. Co.'s drug store and commenced their use. The pain soon ceased and my condition improved in every way. I am greatly indebted to Doan's Kidney Pills for their good work and I gladly recommend them." Statement given April 14, 1907.

Confirmed Proof.

Mrs. Bennett was interviewed on January 5, 1910, and she said: "I can still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills highly and can advise their use in cases of kidney complaint. You are welcome to continue the use of my name as a reference, for I have been firmly convinced of the merit of this remedy."

DEAN DAVENPORT WRITES OF SCHOOL AT POLO.

Eugene Davenport, dean and director of the college of agriculture and agricultural experiment station in connection with the University of Illinois, under date of October 28, writes as follows concerning the Northwestern School of Agriculture and Household Science to be held in Polo December 5 to 9:

"I understand that everything is progressing well for an exceptional meeting in Polo. This meeting will be the only one of its kind in the state this winter, and I hope those in charge of its management will leave nothing undone to secure a good attendance. It is not a vaudeville performance, but a week of solid work and ought to appeal to the leading men and their families in and about Polo. As this is to be the first of its kind, will you use your utmost efforts to secure a good attendance? We are sending our people at very great difficulty indeed, and I hope that the movement will be justified. Very truly yours, E. Davenport."

NEW DISCOVERY FOILS BURGLARS

RESISTS ACTION OF DRILLS AND BLOW-PIPE IN SAFE DOORS.

A sad blow is in store for the safe cracking fraternity as the result of the discovery of a material that will resist the acetylene blow-pipe. In police and burglar circles it has been an accepted fact that when a burglar had an opportunity to apply the fierce flame of the blow-pipe to any kind of safe the looting was a matter of but a few minutes.

Now the blow pipe burglar is to be foiled and the way is told by the U. S. consul, Albert Halsted, stationed at Birmingham, Eng. In describing a test to prove the remarkable qualities of the acetylene defying material he says:

A safe door section had been built up of two sheets of half inch steel, with a layer of this resisting material between. A drill was first employed but while it easily bit its way through the outer case of steel it failed to make any impression on the inner filling and when the drill was withdrawn after five minutes' application all the edge had gone from it. In fact it had been ground smooth.

Now the only acetylene blow pipe was brought into play, the cone of intense light giving off a heat of 6,300 degrees F and exerting a pressure of 50 pounds to the inch. Almost directly the steel covering the region of the drill hole became incandescent, then came a shower of white hot particles and the metal began to bubble over like a miniature crater, but as soon as the outer steel had been burned away and the inner material reached the blow-pipe back fired and was extinguished.

Time after time it was relighted but after a second or two's application it was put out of action. The material proved absolutely invulnerable and when the blow pipe was examined it was found that the cone had been completely burned away. This was the first time in the discoverer's experience that such a thing had happened and while affording evidence of the immense heat employed it also proved convincingly the power of the new material. When later the blow pipe was played on a slab of the material it simply reached a glowing heat, while strangely enough it was subdued immediately a lot of oxygen was put on. This is quite contrary to the usual experience for the extra oxygen is employed for cutting purposes.

When the blow pipe was withdrawn the sign of its application was slight unevenness on the surface. A similar application would have made a cut of at least a foot in steel three inches thick.

WALNUT CITIZEN PAINTS AURORA

TOOK A FLYER IN THAT CITY AND THEN CAME TO GRIEF.

According to Aurora papers Bert Severson of Walnut had a strenuous time and came out a bad loser at Aurora Tuesday night while having a high old time and painting a very bluish during the hours of darkness on the fair cheek of said Aurora. It seems Bertie is not particular, in short he is democratic and when he arrived in the strange city with a bag full of the coin of the realm he looked for congenial company and found it in two negroes, Messrs. Gas Boger, an ex-convict with two terms to his credit, and another black man Peter Walkup, who has not the distinction enjoyed by Boger, but is in a fair way to get it now.

Bertie loosened generously and imbibed freely until he just got so frisky that beer and booze were not equal to stimulating him to his wont. Of course the gentlemen of color then offered to guide the village beau to other joys and when they got into a dark alley they promptly gave him a rough bat on the side of the scone and took for their own the remains of the fat roll and then scuttled off in the darkness.

When Mr. Severson picked himself up he bawled loudly for the police and sprinted up the street until he found an officer who heard his story and took him to a station where he was lodged for safe keeping and the officers went on a hunt for the black marauders. Both were caught and in

QUAKER CITY CAR MEN PLAN STRIKE

C. O. Pratt, Carmen's Leader, Issues a Statement.

STATES MEN ARE DESPERATE

Deadlock of Arbiters in Dispute and Other Troubles Seem to Indicate Another Strike in Quaker City—Situation Acute.

Philadelphia, Nov. 5.—Philadelphia is facing another car strike. The deadlock of the arbiters appointed by the Philadelphia Rapid Transit and union men to define the term "loyal men," the arrest and arraignment of C. O. Pratt, the carmen's leader, the drastic temper of the men as evinced in their all night meeting, all combine to make the present situation acute. Mr. Pratt has issued a statement in the nature of a declaration of war. It reads:

"The men are desperate. They are tired of inaction. They want to do something immediately and intend to do it. They are extremely anxious to show their resentment of what they consider to be one of the worst outrages ever committed by a bunch of political kangsters who see their throne tottering beneath them. I shall continue to use every reasonable influence within my power to avert the forcible expression of their resentment and bring about an amicable adjustment of the threatened strained relations existing between the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company and its union employees."

The statement was made following a conference with Pratt and Peter Driscoll, president of the Carmen's union, had with Isaac H. Silverman, the mediator in the last strike, in his office in the Land Title building. From Pratt's utterances it was taken that the conference was not encouraging.

CLAY'S LIFE IN PERIL

Harry Clark, Insane, Attempts to Kill Philadelphia Official.

Fires Two Shots at Director of Public Safety Henry Clay, but Neither Bullet Hits Mr. Clay.

Philadelphia, Nov. 5.—Harry Clark, of 1063 North Front street, made an attempt on the life of Henry Clay, director of public safety, in the latter's office in the public buildings. Entering the outer office just as the director went into his private room, Clark followed him. Then, standing in the door, he drew a revolver and pointing it at Director Clay fired twice. Both shots missed.

The shots startled Tim O'Leary, assistant superintendent of police, who sprang into the corridor. Clark turned and tried to bring the weapon on a line with O'Leary, but O'Leary delivered a smashing blow under Clark's chin and the latter fell to the floor. Before he could rise O'Leary jumped upon him and holding his knee across his neck wrested the revolver from him. The prisoner was locked up in a cell. Clark is demented.

Romance of an Inkstand.

Pens and furniture used in the signing of famous treaties and documents recall Archibald Forbes' experience after Sedan. After witnessing Napoleon's interview with Bismarck at a wayside cottage and his subsequent surrender Forbes and a fellow war correspondent slept at the chateau which the fallen emperor had occupied the night before. The bedroom was just as Napoleon had left it and by the bed the open book with which he had read himself to sleep. It was Lytton's "Last of the Barons." Sitting at the adjoining writing table, Forbes wrote his dispatch, while his companion gnawed at a ham bone, their sole remainder of food. Irrate at the little eating it furnished, he flung it across the room and upset the inkstand into which Forbes was dipping. When Forbes revisited the chateau a month or so later the inkstand was pointed out as caused by Napoleon's rage on learning the German terms of peace—London Chronicle.

The Order Pleased the Cook.

The following story is told on a missionary of the China inland mission, a bachelor keeping house for himself in the southern part of China: One morning in ordering his dinner he wished to tell his cook to buy a chicken. Instead of saying "ye" for chicken he aspirated the word, saying, "Buy me a 'che'." His cook thought that was an eminently proper command and went about his marketing in high good humor. At noon the missionary found no chicken cooked—in fact, no dinner at all, for his cook had not returned. About dark the man came back, saying: "This was not a good day for buying wives, and I have been all day looking for one, but at last I found one for you. She is rather old and not pretty, but you can have her cheap. I have promised $40 for her."

WHERE PARTIES DIFFER.

Editor Stevens of the Dixon Citizen, the Democratic organ of the party in Lee county, does not believe in voting the straight party ticket; and that is one difference between Republican and Democratic party policy. Experience has shown that Democratic policies and principles are not always safe and Democratic candidates the best; therefore it is not strange that Democratic leaders hesitate about advising Democratic voters to vote the straight ticket; and while they do not openly advise voting for Republican candidates, the implication is to that effect.

The Democrats have a fairly good ticket in the field, so far as our knowledge goes, but we are willing to accept the judgment of Editor Stevens, that the Republican candidates are better, and Editor Stevens displays a high order of citizenship and uttering words—not of caution but of wise suggestion—that Democrats rise above mere party prejudice and instead of sticking to the straight party ticket, vote for the best and most experienced candidates.

Republican voters should learn wisdom from the sage and patriotic words of Editor Stevens, and vote for every Republican candidate—not altogether because they are the party nominees, but because they are better men for the several offices. Republican voters should not suffer themselves to be outdone by their Democratic friends and co-workers in preferring ability and honesty in office. If the suggestion of Editor Stevens is considered as it should be, a large number of Democrats in Lee county, instead of voting the straight Democratic ticket, will vote for Republican nominees, in county office especially.—Amboy Journal.

STILL LOVES WIFE

DESPITE CONSPIRACY.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 4.—Admitting that his wife conspired to kill him in a plot to secure $1,000 life insurance which he carried, Jesse F. Cain's love for the woman has not lessened according to a letter received by State's Attorney Scholes asking Mrs. Cain's release from the county jail. She is held on a charge of accomplice in attempted murder. According to the signed statement of Mrs. Cain following the attempt to kill her husband, she plotted with Fred Hoshbrough, an old sweetheart, to effect the death of her husband, but for weeks one thing or another intervened.

How would you feel if you were a railroad and everybody jumped on you?

SHALL WE SPEAK THE TRUTH?

Simply because a thing is true is no reason why it should be spoken. More than half the truths we know should never be mentioned at all. You are not here to speak all the truth all the time, you are here to give utterance only to such truth as will prove helpful and uplifting to those to whom you speak.

Many things that seem to be true are simply material facts about temporary conditions; and if those conditions are antagonistic to, or at variance with, your plans and your ideals, the said facts should never be spoken of, nor ever admitted to yourself.

Many things that seem to be true that are simply superficial conclusions derived from isolated points of view; you, therefore, have no right to give expression to such seeming truths unless you know that your remarks will prove helpful. But you do not necessarily help people by "shocking" them out of their old or mistaken views. True progress comes, not from mental revolution, but from mental evolution. The only orderly and natural way out is to grow out; and that alone is helpful that tends to build for greater and better things.

A Quick Witted Doctor.

A French surgeon who was once attending a sultan resorted to an expedient which, although efficacious, might have resulted in his own death.

He had been commissioned to bleed the grand seigneur and either through timidity or nervousness had met with an awkward accident. The point of the lancet broke off in the vein, and the blood would not flow. That point must be got out somehow. Without stopping to consider the consequences to himself, the surgeon gave his highness a violent slap in the face. This produced the desired effect, for surprise and indignation on the part of his august patient put the blood into violent circulation. The vein bled freely, and the lancet point came out.

The bystanders were about to lay hands on the surgeon when he said, "First let me finish the operation and bandage the wound." This done, he threw himself at the feet of the sultan and explained his action.

The sultan not only pardoned him, but gave him a handsome reward for keeping his wits about him in a critical moment.

A Knockout.

A young lawyer was engaged in a case when a witness was put in the box to testify to the reputation of the place in question.

This witness in answer to a query as to the reputation of the place replied, "A poor shop."

The lawyer inquired, "You say it has the reputation of being a 'poor shop'?"

"Yes, sir."

"Whom did you hear say it was a 'poor shop'?"

The witness did not recollect any one he had heard say so.

"What?" said the lawyer. "You have sworn this place has the reputation of being a poor shop and yet cannot tell of any one you have ever heard say so?"

The witness was staggered for a moment at the words of the lawyer. The lawyer was feeling triumphant when the witness gathered himself together and quietly remarked, addressing the lawyer:

"Well, you have the reputation of being a poor lawyer, but I have never heard any one say so."

Cows That Never Drink.

The "wild cow" of Arabia, in reality an antelope, the Bactrian ox, is said never to drink, which is probably correct, for unless these animals can descend the wells they can find no drinking water for ten months in the year. There is no surface water, and rain falls but precariously during the winter. Only once during my journey did I find a pool of rainwater, caught in a hollow rock, and even this I should have passed by without knowing of its existence had not my camels sniffed it from a distance and obstinately refused to be turned from going in that direction. These antelope, however, are provided by nature with a curious food supply, especially designed as a thirst quencher. This is a parasite which grows on the roots of the desert bushes and forms a long spadix full of water and juice. The antelope dig deep holes in the sand in order to get at these.—Wide World Magazine.

Easily Explained.

"They have to admit in the old world," said a New York theatrical man, "that we've got them beaten on every count. Talk to them about the matter and they can only quibble."

"Oh, yes," said an English banker to me the other day, "you've got a great country, the greatest country in the world, there's no denying that."

"Then he gave a nasty laugh."

"But look at your fires," he said. "Your terrible fires are a disgrace to mankind."

"Oh, our fires," said I, "are due to the friction caused by our rapid growth."

Mrs. C. A. E. LeSage and children are in Chicago for a few days visit. Harvey Myers of route 1 was a pleasant caller at the Telegraph office Friday.

OLD ENGLISH BOXERS.

Hired to Prevent Trouble at George IV's Coronation.

Boxing was introduced into England in the earlier part of the eighteenth century, its first practitioner being John Broughton, who kept a booth for exhibitions in Tottenham Court road, London, and rules were drawn up Aug. 10, 1743. The vogue was due to the decline of sword combat exhibitions in the reign of George I. Broughton himself was the first who stood in the position of champion, a distinction which he held for eighteen years, but eventually he was knocked out by a butcher named Slack. Broughton was a great pet of the Duke of Cumberland, who took the pugilist with him to Berlin, when he declared himself ready to take on the entire regiment of grenadier guards there "if he were only allowed a breakfast between each two battles."

The English fighter Tom Cribb once secured a very remarkable engagement. Just before the coronation of George IV, certain sympathizers with Queen Caroline bragged that on the day of the coronation they would make matters warm in the neighborhood of Westminster abbey, and this reached the ears of the earl marshal. That high functionary sought an interview with the pugilist "Gentleman" Jackson, who taught Lord Byron to box.

Jackson got together some two dozen bruisers. Besides Cribb, the band included John Gully, in turn fighting man, racing man, colliery proprietor and member of parliament. They were attired as king's pages and gathered about the abbey doors. There was no trouble.—Chicago News.

REINDEER IN LAPLAND.

They Furnish the People With Shelter, Clothing and Food.

Some people have said that the reindeer of the northern regions is to the inhabitants of those countries what the horse, cow and sheep together are to the dwellers in southern lands, and very probably they are right. What would the Laplander be were he deprived of his favorite? How could he travel without his pair of reindeer harnessed to his sledges?

The reindeer has large black hoofs, behind which are false or secondary hoofs; the result is that when running they make a clattering sound, which may be heard a good distance away. The reindeer has much endurance and takes a long journey without seeming tired, though it is only about four and a half feet in height and not very strong. Its horns are long and slender, with branched, rounded antlers, but they are not much used in combat, like those of some other deer.

The largest reindeer are found where the weather is coldest, and their color is lighter. Usually it is brown and white, but in the case of old animals the hair is sometimes quite white. From the skin of the reindeer the Laplanders get not only their clothes, but also bedding and tents; the milk is drunk and made into cheese and the flesh is also good to eat, the tongue and haunches being particularly liked. Pemican, an important article of food, is made by pouring fat over the pounded meat and mixing them well together.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Leech as a Barometer.

A leech confined in a glass jar of water will prove an excellent weather prophet. If the weather is to continue fine the leech lies motionless at the bottom of the jar and rolled together in a spiral form. If it is to rain, either before or after noon, it is found to have crept up to the top of its lodging and there remains till the weather is settled. If we are to have wind the prisoner wriggles through his limpid habitation with amazing swiftness and seldom rests till it begins to blow hard. If a remarkable storm of thunder and rain is to succeed the leech gives itself up to violent throes and convulsive motions. In frost, as in clear summer weather, it lies constantly at the bottom, and in snow, or in rainy weather, it pitches its dwelling on the very mouth of the jar.

African Grosbecks.

The social grosbecks of South Africa live in large societies. They select a tree of considerable size and literally cover it with a grass roof, under which their common dwelling is constructed. The roof serves the double purpose of keeping off the heat and the rain, and 400 or 500 pairs of birds are known to have the same shelter. The nests in this aerial dwelling are built in regular streets and closely resemble rows of tenement houses.

A Financial Genius.

"He is a financial genius. In a restaurant the other day he spilled a cup of coffee over a fellow's gray trousers."

"And got out of paying for them, eh?"

"Why, he talked the other fellow into paying for the coffee."

The Man Behind the Message.

The value of a thing depends largely upon who says it. Words may be bullets, but character must be the powder at the back of them to give them projectile force. The man behind the message is as important as the man behind the gun.

FIRE CHIEF BADLY INJURED.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 4.—While his horse was running at full speed at the corner of Spencer and Hurlburt streets it stumbled and fell and Chief of the city fire department Thomas N. Wurm escaped death by the narrowest margin. He was thrown to the pavement and stepped on by the struggling animal. He sustained serious injury of an arm and bad cuts and bruises about the face. While he will recover he suffered intensely.

AURORA FACTORIES MERGED.

Aurora, Ill., Nov. 4.—The Wilcox Manufacturing company and the Richards Manufacturing company, two of Aurora's largest and most prosperous manufacturing concerns have been merged. About 600 men are employed in the two plants. The new company will have 1,000 employees within a year, it is predicted.

WORTHY CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF'S OFFICE

VOTERS ARE URGED TO CAST THEIR BALLOTS FOR CLARENCE REID.

Voters of Lee County:

The majority of the people of Lee county are made up of those who have to depend on their own efforts for what they now have. These people naturally are interested in any one who is trying to do the same. We refer you to the republican candidate for sheriff, now Deputy Sheriff Clarence P. Reid.

Mr. Reid lost his father when he was but eight years of age, the eldest of four children, the mother keeping her little family together by her own efforts. They all live and have lived in Dixon for the past ten years.

If you give Mr. Reid the position he seeks, it will be a step up the ladder for him and an encouragement and endorsement to all young men who must "make good" by their own efforts. He has served you faithfully and well for four years at a wage that by the strictest economy, did not allow him to do anything toward the expenses of this campaign, he depending wholly on his credit with the business institutions of Lee county.

Those who are interested in assisting a worthy candidate should not only vote, but urge their neighbor to do the same.

"SOME FOOLS AND OTHERS" HIS THEME

EVANGELIST HARNLY HAS SELECTED THIS SUBJECT FOR SUNDAY NIGHT.

The meetings at the First Baptist church will close the middle of next week. Tomorrow promises to be a day full of good things. At 10 a. m. Rev. Harnly will address the Sunday school on "The Two Doors." At the morning service the theme will be, "Baptist Fundamentals." All Baptists and all others who have taken the word Baptist as a synonym for immersion and a restricted communion, should hear this message on the great fundamentals of this church.

In the evening the theme will be, "Some Fools, and Others." This is a message that will interest and help all. All are invited to come and none need hesitate, for the evangelist promises not to be so personal as to unnecessarily embarrass any one.

THE TARIFF BOARD.

The republican tariff act now in force is not perfect. There has been a little tilt in the republican party as to what ought to be done with it. So far as the democrats are concerned they have been interested spectators in the hope that the tilt would become so oblique that they (the democrats) could slide in and undo the whole republican idea of protection.

Now it has become clear that the republican tilt is not a serious one. There is substantial agreement in the party now. This tacit agreement does not concede all that the ultra high protectionists might ask for. Neither does it concede everything the most radical insurgents demand. A safe forecast of what the new republican congress will do is that it will endorse the plan of Taft as to the tariff board.

This tariff board provision of the Payne bill may be said to be its self-curative feature. It provides a way to remedy all the real defects that there are in the schedules as quickly as they are discovered. The tariff board provision means according to Roosevelt:

The inauguration of the policy of providing for a disinterested revision of high class schedules through a high class commission of experts, which will treat each schedule purely on its merits with a view both to protecting the consumer from excessive prices and to securing the American producer, and especially the American wage-worker what will represent the difference of cost in production here as compared with the cost of production in countries where labor is less liberally rewarded.—Moline Dispatch.

L. W. MILLER FOR SUPT. OF SCHOOLS

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE HAS HAD SPECIAL TRAINING FOR THE OFFICE

Prof. L. W. Miller is the republican nominee for county superintendent of schools. He is making his campaign on his record of thorough and specific preparation for the office he seeks, his record as an educator in his native county and the superior service his natural abilities, training and experience enable him to give to the schools of Lee county.

PROF. L. W. MILLER, Republican Candidate for County Superintendent of Schools.

His candidacy, indorsed by 2621 votes in the primaries, is receiving strong endorsement from thoughtful men of all political faiths, it being universally conceded that his conception of what a county superintendent should be, should know and should be able to do, is correct.

He has the respect and confidence of the teachers and knows the needs of the schools as only those of broad experience can best know them, and his views on school matters coincide with those of the general public of Lee county.

His election guarantees the least possible interruption in our school system, and insures a business administration satisfactory to the taxpayers. He will not ask Lee county for an assistant.

Vote for him for what his thorough and special preparation and wide range of experience in school administration render him able to accomplish for our boys and girls, our teachers, our homes and our taxpayers.

WM. D. FORBES IS FOUND DEAD IN BED

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DEATH OF FORMER FRANKLIN GROVE CITIZEN.

Franklin Grove, Nov. 5.—Wm. D. Forbes, formerly a resident of this city, was found dead in bed at his home in Lyons, Ia. The cause of his death is a mystery. Some thought at first he committed suicide but different things have come to light that lead friends to believe others are involved in his death.

Mr. Forbes, aged 65 years, was found dead in his room at noon. The gas fixtures were torn from their fastenings and the room was filled with gas. The windows were tightly closed, and the door was locked and bolted.

Mr. Forbes had been dead about twelve hours before he was discovered by the 12 year old daughter of Mrs. Blank.

FORTY AUTOS GOING THROUGH MONDAY

CHICAGO MOTOR CLUB HAS 1000 MILE RELIABILITY RACE

CARS WILL CARRY 130 PEOPLE

Will Make Five Day Run, Passing Through Principal Cities of Northern Illinois

Chicago, Nov. 5.—There will start Monday morning from the VanDyke commercial garage at Cottage Grove avenue and Twenty-fourth street one of the largest automobile reliability runs that has been sent out this year. There will be forty cars in the party, carrying 130 people, and this caravan will cover 1,018 miles in five days through the northern part of Illinois. Of this number thirty-two are contesting cars, the other machines carrying officials. The competition is the annual 1,000 mile reliability run of the Chicago Motor Club, and the route laid out takes in almost every town of prominence north of Springfield. The object of the contest is to demonstrate the reliability of the cars and their economical features so far as gasoline is concerned.

There will be five trophies contested for. The touring cars, of which there are twelve, will run for the Stewart speedometer trophy donated by the Stewart & Clark Mfg. Co., and valued at $500. The roadsters and toy tonneau cars will run for the Van Sicklen cup, valued at $500 and given by N. H. Van Sicklen, Sr. Then there is the Chicago Motor Club team trophy, going to the two cars of the same make which return the best aggregate score. The Standard Oil trophy, given by the Standard Oil Co., and valued at $250, will be awarded to the car with the best fuel consumption showing under the formula. H. P. Branstetter has given the Branstetter cup for competition among the tire makers, the trophy going to the concern whose product does the best work.

The rules of the run are very rigid. Cars will be penalized for any work that is done on them while they are on the road, and besides this there will be penalties for being late at the noon and night stops. As if this were not enough, the cars will be given a technical examination at the finish of the run, and merits handed out for anything broken or loose. In this way it is hoped to secure a definite winner in each division.

The competing cars are required to travel 200 miles a day. The first day's run will be to Moline, via Rockford and Dixon; the second day the run goes to Quincy, with the stop at Bushnell; the third day the run stops at Springfield and the night control at Peoria; on the fourth day Decatur will be the noon stop and Champaign the night control; the fifth day the tourists will run back to Chicago, eating luncheon at Streator.

Officials of the run are as follows: Referee, David Beecroft, who will travel in a Speedwell pacemaking car; F. E. Edwards, Berne Nadall will be in the Thomfey mfwy ptwpy and Otto von Bachel, judges, who will be in the Thomas six cylinder car; starter, O. G. Temme in a Moon; chief checker, H. P. Branstetter in a Kisselkar; general executive, C. P. Root, in a Staver-Chicago; pilot, J. P. ods in a Falcar. Besides this there will be two Abbott-etroit press cars and a Staver-Chicago photographer's car.

NO BETTER WAY TO BREAK A BAD COLD

MOST SEVERE COLD OR THE GRIPPE RELIEVED IN SEVERAL HOURS.

The most effective and harmless way to cure the Grippe or break a severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs, is a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

You will distinctly feel the cold breaking and all gripe symptoms going after the very first dose. It promptly relieves the most miserable neuralgia pains, headache, dizziness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic aching.

Take this harmless Compound as directed with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25 cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

After three years' research we have conclusively demonstrated that quinine is not effective in the treatment of colds or gripe.

FIND WOMAN DEAD IN CHICAGO DITCH

Body Is That of Person About About 20 Years of Age.

MURDER THEORY IS ADVANCED

Nothing Was Found on Remains by Which It Could Be Identified—Skull Fractured and Gashes on Head Indicate Foul Play.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Murder is suspected by Capt. John McWeeny of the South Chicago police station, in the finding of the body of a young woman, about 20 years old, in a ditch near the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad tracks at Ninety-Seventh street. Her skull was fractured and the captain says there were also gashes on her head which leads to the foul play theory.

The body was found by railroad employees and were taken to Murphy's undertaking rooms at 9353 Commercial avenue.

The woman was dressed well. She wore a green jacket, a blue skirt, and black stockings and black laced shoes. No hat was found. She wore a silver ring on the second finger of her left hand. No valuables were found in her clothing.

"It looks to me like a case of murder," said Capt. McWeeny, "for these reasons. The ditch in which the body was found is fully thirty feet from the railroad tracks, and if the woman was struck and thrown that distance by a train, her body in all probability would be badly bruised and her bones would be broken. All the injuries we found were on the head."

"Her skull was fractured and there were a number of other gashes on her head. There were no cuts or bruises about her body or limbs. We questioned railroad employees, but no one saw the woman struck by a train. It is possible that the woman was beaten on the head and her body thrown into the ditch. It doesn't look like a railroad accident to me. I have detailed detectives to investigate."

Nothing was found by which the woman's identity could be established.

STRIKERS' RIOTS STILL OCCUR

Ranks of the Garment Workers in Chicago Still Growing.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Denying a settlement of the strike of the garment workers at the shops of Hart, Schaffner and Marx and others was near, and preparing to spread the war to new nonunion establishments, officials of the strikers' union went into executive council.

While the officials were in session hundreds of additional workers quit shops in the loop district and joined the ranks of brother workers fighting for better conditions.

A number of riots occurred when the crowds surging out of the doors of the shops were joined by pickets. The throngs were dispersed by the police.

It seems that a gang of about 15 or 20 youths from this city and the surrounding neighborhood enjoyed very much the destruction of property as a Hallowe'en joke, for in a few instances damage was done. There are a great many jokes that can be played and which will be appreciated on this night without resorting to vulgar tactics so it is hard to understand why some carry the work too far and do not know when to stop.

The supper and social given by the girls' basket ball team of the local high school in the opera house Monday night was well attended, and heartily enjoyed. As a result we are informed the girls netted $32 or thereabouts in the treasury to fit them out for starting the basket ball season which is indeed a great encouragement to them. A program was also rendered for the benefit of the attendance by the children and a good quantity of pleasing music was played by several of the talented pianists of this town. The girls' basket ball team is a fast team and have good prospects of defeating the teams of neighboring schools.

NO MORE DANDRUFF

ROWLAND BROS. SELL THE REMEDY THAT IS GUARANTEED TO KILL ALL DANDRUFF GERMS.

Of course you and every intelligent reader of the Telegraph knows that dandruff is caused by a germ.

Dr. Sagerbund, the great French physician, proved this beyond a doubt.

In order to rid your scalp of filthy dandruff you must kill the germ. There is a hair dressing called Parisian Sage which is now sold in every town in America that is guaranteed to eradicate dandruff, stop falling hair, splitting hair and scalp itch in two weeks, or money back.

If you have dandruff get a large 50 cent bottle today and rid yourself of it. Remember that if dandruff germs are not destroyed in time, the hair will surely fall out and baldness will follow.

Here's proof of what Parisian Sage has done; it will do more. It is the finest hair grower and hair dressing in the world, and people who use it regularly will never grow bald. Mrs. John Stoner, Evansville, Ind., writes on June 2, 1910:

"I used Parisian Sage and found it very successful; it removes dandruff and gives the hair life; I only used two bottles. I know it is a cure for dandruff."

COOK USED POISON SAYS MRS. GOULD

Doctor Called Who Fails to Find Any Truth in the Claim.

DIVORCED HUSBAND IS ACCUSED

Claims Three Attempts Have Been Made in Two Months to Kill Her So Her Former Husband Can Remarry Again.

Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 5.—Mrs. Katherine Clemens Gould, divorced wife of Howard Gould, arrived from her country home at Blue Gap, ten miles away, driving a team of mules covered with foam, having covered the distance in 65 minutes and claimed she had been poisoned by her negro cook. She went at once to the Hotel Carroll, secured a room and summoned a doctor.

Dr. E. A. Vaughn was soon at her bedside. After a thorough examination the physician announced that he could find no evidence of poisoning and gave her no medicine, saying she required none. Persons who were present at the time, state that Mrs. Gould said her husband was trying to have her murdered and that this was the third attempt upon her life within the past two months.

Mrs. Gould was recently visited at her estate by Bishop Van Devyler, bishop of the Catholic diocese of Richmond, and Father Hannaga, also of Richmond. According to the negro who brought Mrs. Gould here she received the guests and showed them over the estate, but later claimed she had no recollection of this visit.

Mrs. Gould insists that her husband desires to have her out of the way in order that he might marry again. She stated that her first recollection after drinking coffee about 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon was about 11:30 o'clock at night when she came out of a stupor, and found herself lying on the floor with a chair across her. She got up and found the house lighted and open, but she could find no one. Later she went to a small house a short distance away, where one of her negro hands was sleeping. She aroused him and together they made another tour of the house. The negro bore out Mrs. Gould's statements that she could find no one in the house and she did not know what had become of the visitors.

After refusing to be seen by newspaper men, Mrs. Gould went back to her estate. She had a trained nurse with her and it is said was bordering on nervous prostration.

SCHURMAN TALKS ON NATIONALISM

President of Cornell Defines the New Scheme of Government.

REGARDS PLAN REVOLUTIONARY

Says It Spells Caesarism in Government and Bankruptcy in Business Without Adding to Workers' Material Welfare.

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 5.—President Schurman of Cornell; discussed Col. Roosevelt's latest scheme of government in a speech at a mass meeting of the Cornell Civic club, a non-partisan organization of students, which discusses political problems. The meeting was given over to a discussion by prominent professors on the issues of the campaign, and Dr. Schurman, who was a delegate to the Republican convention at Saratoga, was asked to speak on the new nationalism. He said in part:

"I regard Mr. Roosevelt's new nationalism as the most revolutionary and dangerous program any political leader has laid before the American people since the close of the Civil war. To call it an application of the ancient moralities to modern conditions, is a downright travesty on the decalogue. In reality, the new nationalism of Theodore Roosevelt is the world old despotism of one-man power, declared out in the rainbow promises of a benevolent socialism."

"This republic, wisely instructed by the political history of mankind, narrowly limited the powers of the federal government. Mr. Roosevelt would indefinitely enlarge these powers to the detriment alike of home rule and state sovereignty. And in his highly centralized national government the congress and the courts are to be subordinate to the president."

"This new nationalism regards the executive power as the steward of the public welfare. No longer the three co-ordinate powers of our government."

"This Caesarian president is to bring about a more equal distribution of property. It is not explained how the poor man is to get higher wages than a solvent business can afford to pay. Yet, Mr. Roosevelt constantly suggests that if only we had a highly centralized government, and a Caesarian president, the masses of the people would be much better off. His mind is dominated by the fallacy that it is the duty of the government to support the individual, whereas, of course, it is the individual who supports the government."

"But if it fails in constructive results, the new nationalism does its perfect work in destructive, meddling and useless interference with business. That stern, old moralist, Dr. Samuel Johnson, used to say that 'there are few things in which a man can be more innocently employed than in making money.' Not so the apostle of the new nationalism. He would allow no man to make money, however honestly, unless it could be proved, of course, to well salaried government inspectors that this man's prosperity was a benefit to others."

"The new nationalism spells Caesarism in government and bankruptcy in business, and all that without adding a cent to the income of the wage earner or any other citizen, except the politician and his army of new government officials."

INSANE ASYLUM BURNS

Six Hundred Patients Huddled Into Sheds and Barns.

Many Patients Burned in Escaping from Burning Building—Loss Will Approximate $500,000.

Brandon, Man., Nov. 5.—Six hundred patients of the asylum for the insane are huddled together in sheds and barns as the result of a fire which destroyed the asylum. The asylum was a mile and a half northwest of town and despite the fact that an early alarm was given, it was an hour before the fire department reached the scene and by that time the building was almost a total loss.

Immediately it was seen that the fire had got beyond control, the asylum staff released the patients and by persuasion and their threats headed them out of the building. Men, women and children were gathered in every available building, and there was little trouble with them. When the fire was discovered a blizzard was blowing and it has been learned that a number of patients were burned in escaping from the building. It is believed none of the injuries will result fatally. The burned buildings were erected at a cost of $500,000.

FIVE DIE IN MINE EXPLOSION

Alabama Shaft of Yolande Company Scene of Fatal Gas Blast.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 5.—In a gas explosion in the mines of the Yolande Coal and Coke company shortly after midnight Friday night five men were killed. The bodies were recovered.

NOME IS SWEEP BY TIDAL WAVE

Water Rises to Highest Point Ever Seen There.

MANY HAVE NARROW ESCAPES

Streets of the Town Flooded and Two Houses and Fifteen Cabins Destroyed—Several Vessels Wrecked by Wave.

Nome, Alaska, Nov. 5.—A terrific surf, unaccompanied by wind or disturbance in the air, swept the beach and across the Nome sandspit, destroying two houses and fifteen cabins and doing great damage to shipping. Several schooners were cast ashore and wrecked.

No lives were lost, but many persons had narrow escapes. The water swept far up the streets, those near the shore being completely inundated. Late at night the surf began to subside.

No one here is able to account for the phenomenon, which some attribute to submarine volcanic action and others to the recent eclipse.

The water rose to the highest point ever seen here, reaching far above the marks made when Bering sea and Norton sound are lashed into fury by the arctic storms.

The schooner Mary Sachs was picked up from her moorings by the mighty rush of waters and deposited in a spit dweller's yard. All other boats laid up for the winter were swept far up on the beach by the waves.

Cellars in the stores on Front street are full of water and the stocks are soaked. It was only by piling sacks about the warehouse of the Pacific Cold Storage company that the men were able to prevent the building from being carried away. The homeless are being cared for by their friends.

For several months Mount Bogoslov and Mount Shisha-Idin, near Unimak pass, have been spouting fire and lava at short intervals, and the Bogoslov islands have been undergoing peculiar contortions.

Reports are anxiously awaited from other points along the coast.

BLAME VIOLENT EARTHQUAKE

Submarine Volcanic Eruption Is Believed to Be Cause of Disaster.

Noma, Alaska, Nov. 5.—A violent submarine earthquake or volcanic eruption is thought to be the cause of a great tidal wave which swept the Nome coast, flooding that city and causing heavy damage to shipping.

EAST IN STORM'S GRIP

Heavy Fall of Snow Results in Great Inconvenience.

Storm Reported Worst Between Washington and Baltimore—Twenty-One Inches of Snow.

New York, Nov. 5.—A storm of mid-winter intensity rode up the Atlantic coast on a gale that brought at least one death and heavy falls of snow and rain. It spread far inland and left twenty-one inches of snow in places in Pennsylvania, wrecked telephone and telegraph wires everywhere and tied up hundreds of miles of electric car lines.

The storm was severest apparently between Washington and Baltimore. Wires are down between these cities.

Pennsylvania suffered from a soggy, clinging snow. Wires across the state were down or worked only intermittently. Early communication with Chicago was secured via Boston.

New York state felt the storm and wires worked poorly. Broken wire communications affected some of the railroads. Trains from distant points were far behind schedules.

SNOW STORM DAMAGES TREES

Fall of Twelve Inches Reported From Wilkesbarre, Pa.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 5.—Snow to the depth of twelve inches fell here during Friday night, being so heavy that great damage was done to trees, thousands being broken down.

Railroads and street car lines were tied up, traffic being seriously hampered, while telephone and telegraph wires were broken in all directions.

WALSH ROAD NETS $1,000,000

Chicago Southern Line Sold to W. D. Lawlor and Raymond D. Martin.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—The Chicago Southern railroad, a coal road belonging to a company headed by John R. Walsh, now serving a term in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., was sold at Danville, Ill., in compliance with a decree entered by Judge Kohlsaat.

The purchasers were Raymond D. Martin of New York and W. D. Lawlor of Chicago, tenants in common. The price was $1,000,000, and only one bid was made.

TWO CO-EDS SUBDUED A THIEF

Elgin, Ill., Nov. 5.—The story of how two co-eds at Beloit college fought with and subdued a burglar in their room at the college dormitory was revealed by Miss Clara Hanaford, who is at her home in this city recuperating from the nervous shock which followed the encounter.
Miss Hanaford and Miss Ruby Hoefler of Freeport were asleep in their room when the burglar awakened them. Grappling with him they forced him in a clothes closet and barricaded the door. He escaped through a small window while the girls were summoning help.

MEXICAN BURNED AT STAKE BY MOB
Texas Mob Makes Short Work of Confessed Murderer.
KILLED WIFE OF A RANCHMAN
Victim Admitted Crime and Was Led to Pyre Trembling and Begging for Mercy—Body Soaked With Oil and Set on Fire.
Rock Springs, Tex., Nov. 5.—Tied to a stake and soaked in oil, Antonio Rodriguez, a young Mexican and a self-confessed slayer of a woman, was burned alive here by a mob. More than 1,000 people witnessed the incineration.
Rodriguez was caught by a sheriff's posse after a chase covering several miles. He was lodged in the county jail. During the night several hundred infuriated ranchmen appeared at the jail. The mob was soon augmented by hundreds of citizens, who made no attempt to remonstrate with the leaders.
Rodriguez, who already had admitted slaying Mrs. Lem Henderson, wife of a ranchman near this city, again repeated his confession, explaining that he had slain her because she had "spoken mean" to him when he had asked for food.
The Mexican was dragged to a point near the outskirts of Rock Springs, where a pyre had been built. Tying him to a stake and pouring oil over his half-clad body, the leader applied a torch as several rifle bullets pierced the struggling body.
There was a groan of agony from the lips of the dying man as the flames leaped around his body, and concealed him from the view of the spectators. The dying man's head fell forward and he became unconscious.
Rodriguez appeared at the Henderson ranch Thursday while Mr. Henderson was away from home and the rest of the household out in the fields. He asked for something to eat. Mrs. Henderson took exception to his manner and refused to accede to his request. Angered, the Mexican, who was a youth of only 20 years, seized the woman and beat her into insensibility. Later she died, the husband finding her dead body, badly mutilated, on the kitchen floor.
Entrance to the jail was demanded, but the sheriff and his deputies refused to open the doors or parley with the leaders. Procuring a heavy iron rail the dogs were battered down, the sheriff overpowered and the prisoner was seized.
Rodriguez was cuddled in one corner of his cell. He was led trembling and begging for mercy to the street and then dragged to the stake which, in the meantime, had been erected in the outskirts of the city.

MEXICAN BURNED AT STAKE BY MOB
Texas Mob Makes Short Work of Confessed Murderer.
KILLED WIFE OF A RANCHMAN
Victim Admitted Crime and Was Led to Pyre Trembling and Begging for Mercy—Body Soaked With Oil and Set on Fire.
Rock Springs, Tex., Nov. 5.—Tied to a stake and soaked in oil, Antonio Rodriguez, a young Mexican and a self-confessed slayer of a woman, was burned alive here by a mob. More than 1,000 people witnessed the incineration.
Rodriguez was caught by a sheriff's posse after a chase covering several miles. He was lodged in the county jail. During the night several hundred infuriated ranchmen appeared at the jail. The mob was soon augmented by hundreds of citizens, who made no attempt to remonstrate with the leaders.
Rodriguez, who already had admitted slaying Mrs. Lem Henderson, wife of a ranchman near this city, again repeated his confession, explaining that he had slain her because she had "spoken mean" to him when he had asked for food.
The Mexican was dragged to a point near the outskirts of Rock Springs, where a pyre had been built. Tying him to a stake and pouring oil over his half-clad body, the leader applied a torch as several rifle bullets pierced the struggling body.
There was a groan of agony from the lips of the dying man as the flames leaped around his body, and concealed him from the view of the spectators. The dying man's head fell forward and he became unconscious.
Rodriguez appeared at the Henderson ranch Thursday while Mr. Henderson was away from home and the rest of the household out in the fields. He asked for something to eat. Mrs. Henderson took exception to his manner and refused to accede to his request. Angered, the Mexican, who was a youth of only 20 years, seized the woman and beat her into insensibility. Later she died, the husband finding her dead body, badly mutilated, on the kitchen floor.
Entrance to the jail was demanded, but the sheriff and his deputies refused to open the doors or parley with the leaders. Procuring a heavy iron rail the dogs were battered down, the sheriff overpowered and the prisoner was seized.
Rodriguez was cuddled in one corner of his cell. He was led trembling and begging for mercy to the street and then dragged to the stake which, in the meantime, had been erected in the outskirts of the city.

BRAINY BABY.
John Stuart Mill Was a Genius at Three Years of Age.

At three years of age John Stuart Mill began the study of Greek, with "arithmetic as an evening relaxation." At eight he began Latin, Euclid and algebra and had to act as tutor to the younger children. He was a stern and efficient tutor.

At twelve he began scholastic logic and political economy—the latter his main lifework.

At fourteen, while paying a long visit to Sir Samuel Bentham in southern France, he learned French as a relaxation from studying two or three hours before breakfast, five hours between breakfast and dinner and two or three in the evening. Being for the time master of his own hours and not subject to a stern father, he took lessons also in his spare hours in music, singing, dancing, fencing and riding, but never became proficient.

At sixteen Mill could speak in debate with adults with ease and freedom. At eighteen he contributed to the Westminster Review. At twenty-one he was made assistant in the India office and received a large salary for those days.

But Mill was bald at twenty-two. He did not marry until he was forty-five. He himself said, "I never was a boy. It is better to let nature have its own way."

The Green Flash of Sunset.
One of the most rarely witnessed of natural phenomena, but one that has often been discussed at scientific meetings and that always awakens wonder when seen, is the so-called "green flash" occasionally visible at the moment of the disappearance of the sun behind a clear horizon. The observer's eye must be fixed upon the rim of the sun as it disappears in order to catch the phenomenon. One authority tells us that he has seen the green flash, although rarely, at the instant of the setting of a bright star. Among the explanations offered is one based upon the optical principle of complementary colors. If one looks at the sun and then closes the eyes a green flash will be perceived. A sensitive eye might be similarly affected by a brilliant star. —New York Herald.

How to Look Pleasant.
By her gracious and cordial manner the wife of a western senator has long charmed those so fortunate as to attend her delightful "functions."

On one such occasion a close friend was alluding to the hostess' graceful method of making every one feel at home. "How on earth do you manage to do it?" the friend asked.

"Oh, it's easy enough," replied the woman with the engaging manner. "As each guest approaches to shake hands I just pretend to myself that the person I am going to speak to is some one I like."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"Oh, it's easy enough," replied the woman with the engaging manner. "As each guest approaches to shake hands I just pretend to myself that the person I am going to speak to is some one I like."—Chicago Record-Herald.
